County Will Seek Bids On Tax Computer

Randall County commissioners decided Monday to advertise for bids for the computerization of the county tax office, but several commissioners made it clear that West Texas State University's computer center will probably do the job.

Commissioners' decision came after a lengthy discussion with Dist. Atty. George Dowlen who recommended they seek competitive bids for the computer services.

With law books in hand, Dowlen said the commissioners had few other choices.

Nevertheless, commissioners spent half an hour discussing ways to circumvent the law so WTSU's computer center could continue computerizing county tax records.

Representatives of the computer center appeared Monday and were to have presented a contract for the job to commissioners for signing. No contract was presented, although center representatives had said a week before that computer services would cost the county about $21,000 for the first year of operation.

"It appears that in 1971 the legislature amended the law so that any time you obligate the county for over $2000 it has to be done on a bid basis," Dowlen told commissioners. "There are some exceptions, but only one is even remotely applicable for professional or personal services."

Following Dowlen's statement, commissioners discussed various possibilities in describing the computerization job to get around the law.

"I think you could call these people (computer center representatives) professional," Commissioner John Fulgenzi said.

"I'd be apprehensive about going any other route than on a bid basis," Dowlen said.

Commissioner Jim Fletcher asked if there isn't a law which allows governmental entities to contract for services with other governmental entities.

Dowlen left the courtroom to check that law and returned later.

"It's no problem to bid it," Commissioner Bill Butler said. "It's not available elsewhere."

After further discussion about ways to get around the bid possibility, commissioners again heard Dowlen recommend they advertise for bids.

"We can write the specs (specifications) and tie it down where you're the only place we can go," Fulgenzi said to computer center manager Durwood Henderson.

"They're going to be doing it anyway," Butler said turning to Henderson.

Commissioners then agreed to advertise for bids, but to carry on with the WTSU computer center until the bids are in.

Following the commissioners' vote, Carroll Wilson, editor of The Canyon News, questioned commissioners on what he termed their unusual approach to the computerization of the tax office.

Wilson questioned the hiring of an Amarillo man to place identification numbers on county property and the purchase of an on-line terminal, both of which acts were accomplished before commissioners were told how much WTSU would charge for its

The annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale, Feb. 2-9, gets an early start as Holly Hooper and Quinell Newman of Brownie Troop 181 try to make a sale to Mrs. Ruth Lassiter, secretary in the County Agent's Office in the courthouse. Proceeds will support Girl Scout activities in Canyon for another year.

WT Equal Employment Plan Given University Faculty

A 10-page explanation of the affirmative action plan for equal employment opportunity was given West Texas State University faculty and staff members Wednesday.

Formulation of the plan by university officials was the result of a complaint filed last spring by the Texas Women Equity Action League and subsequent inspection at WTSU by the Office of Civil Rights in Dallas.

The WEAL complaint alleged that WTSU discriminates against women and the inspection last summer confirmed the charge. As a result of the inspection WTSU was told to draw up an affirmative action plan which calls for active recruitment of women and members of minority groups.

The plan was submitted to Department of Health, Education and Welfare officials on Dec. 5 for approval.

An administration spokesman said the plan would be reviewed 60 days and if no notice was given during the 60-day period, the plan could be assumed approved.

The plan goes into effect with its dissemination.

In a policy statement included in the 10-page plan given faculty and staff Wednesday, the university states its intent to hire, recruit, promote without regard to race, creed, color, national origin, sex or age.

Dr. James P. Cornette, university president, has appointed Dr. Ray A. Malzahn, vice president for academic affairs, and Clarence E. Thompson, business manager, as equal employment opportunities representatives for the university.

The policy states that it is the duty of Malzahn and Thompson to assure compliance with policies set forth for instituting equal opportunity programs.

The policy also urges department heads to call meetings to consider solutions for certain problems involving equal opportunity.

"Through statistical analysis, it has been discovered that according to HEW standards there are certain imbalances in minority and female employment," the policy states. "The university wishes to be certain that employment practices do not hinder equal employment opportunities for minorities and women at West Texas State University."

The affirmative action plan states the following:

It is the employment policy of West Texas State University that no position will be filled until all reasonable efforts have been made to locate qualified minority and female candidates and invite them to apply.

To meet the stated goals of the university in equal employment, the plan calls for active recruitment to increase the numbers of minority persons and women at the university. Recruitment literature and announcements will be distributed to recognized sources of minority and female candidates.

In addition, the university will, within budget limitations, recruit people who can be trained on the job.

The university will also attempt to make available appropriate training programs designed to prepare pre-service personnel for employment and in-service personnel for advancement.

To monitor the plan's implementation, the plan calls for

Lindsey Clashes Over Pay Raise

A county commissioner not yet a month, Paul Lindsey, who was an outspoken advocate of careful government spending as mayor of Canyon during the late 1960s, got his feet wet in the controversy of county government Monday.

Lindsey was strong in his opposition to a pay raise suggested during Commissioner's court for County Road Superintendent Joe West. He was also alone in his opposition.

The controversy started when County Judge Woody Pond presented several employees names for salary adjustments. Commissioner Bill Butler said West had been hired with an understanding he would be given a substantial raise within several months.

He was given a raise from $700 to $775 per month at the first of the year.

"I think Joe is doing a good job," Butler said. "I recommend his salary be $875 per month as of Feb. 1."

Lindsey protested, saying West's salary had been increased $75 per month just a month ago. He also alluded to another area of concern.

"I don't think something of this nature ought to be changed by telephone conversation or other conversation outside to the point where it can be related to the person that a change has been made or will be installed," Lindsey said.

Lindsey then suggested that if West is to be given the additional $100 raise the commissioners should take a $25 each decrease in car allowance to make up for the raise. He offered the proposal as an amendment to a motion made by Butler to raise West's salary.

"That's fine, Butler said, 'but I won't accept it as an amendment to my motion.'"

Commissioner Jim Fletcher protested the proposal.

"I don't feel relinquished any of my duties in any precinct when we went to the unit system," he said.

Lindsey implied that when the county adopted the unit system of road management, the road superintendent assumed some responsibilities which commissioners had prior to his hiring.

"I'm not spending any less time on my roads than before we hired him," Fletcher said.

Lindsey received no second on his motion that the amendment be tacked onto Butler's original motion. Butler's motion passed. Then Lindsey reintroduced his motion and it died for lack of a second.

Several minutes later Fletcher asked commissioners if they felt their travel pay, which amounts to $100 per month apiece, is out of line.

He indicated he would make a motion that commissioners' salaries be increased by $50 and their travel pay reduced by $50. The motion was never made.

In other business, commissioners heard a request from Mrs. Ruth Hill, county treasurer, for an additional employee in her office.

Mrs. Hill appeared last year with a similar request.

She told commissioners her

Incumbent Files For School Board

Richard Pruett, local restaurant owner, became the first incumbent to file for election recently for the Canyon Independent School District board of trustees.

Pruett has served on the board one year after he was appointed to fill the unexpired term of the late J.O. Parker.

Harold Erwin is the only other incumbent whose term of office is up this year on the school board. He has yet to file for re-election.

Three other local residents have also filed to run for election to the two open seats on the board. Mrs. Pauline Hefley, local businesswoman, David Kent, university tennis coach, and Dr. Wallace Johnston, university professor, have also filed.

Pruett, who owns The Village Inn, has been a Canyon resident 27 years. He is originally from Reed, Okla.

He is a 1953 graduate of County Judge Woody Pond peruses the annual budget report from 1972 which reflects a $500,000 surplus in county funds. Despite the surplus, the judge said taxes will remain the same.

Large Surplus Left From '72, But No Tax Decreases Seen

Deficit spending has not been adopted as a fiscal policy in Randall County and the county budget for 1972 might show the federal government a thing or two about finances.

The county's fiscal year ended Dec. 31 and the 1972 budget reflects a surplus going into 1973 of $512,254, the highest surplus in the county since 1969.

The surplus does not include federal revenue-sharing money, which is not included in the regular 1972 county budget. The county received $82,000 from the federal government in revenue-sharing funds for the year.

Actual receipts and disbursements indicate the county had a surplus of $433,000 going into fiscal 1972 left over from 1971.

The county took in $1,145,764 in revenue during 1972 to bring total income during the fiscal year to $2,031,293.

Disbursements totaled $1,519,038.

County Auditor Betty Hodges noted that in reality the county spent just under what it received in revenue during 1972, since total income without the carry-over surplus was just about $80,000 more than total disbursements.

Revenue increased by about $80,000 in 1972 over 1971 and spending increased by about $54,000.

Even with the large surplus going into fiscal 1973, County Judge Woody Pond said commissioners cannot afford to lower taxes for county residents.

"We had a tax decrease a couple of years ago," he said. "We have to have a certain amount of surplus. You never can tell what's going to happen."

Pond noted that the county has about $359,000 in bonded indebtedness to pay off at the rate of $43,000 per year and he said the county should have enough surplus each year to retire the bonds if necessary.

"I don't think it's too much," he said eyeing the surplus. "If it goes over that, then I'd think it was too much. On the other hand, just because we have put back some money that doesn't mean we have to run out and spend it."

The judge said possibly the county commissioners are "a little too conservative."

Even though the county has a healthy surplus, commissioners continue to stress economy in the government.

Pond told department heads of the county last week they are spending too much and commissioners have continually stressed cutbacks and savings in programs.

In estimates made for fiscal 1972, commissioners had estimated receipts at $1,028,396 and disbursements of $1,166,970.

For 1973, commissioners es-

County Could Lose ASCS Office Here

Randall County's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office could be consolidated into a centralized office for several counties, it was learned Tuesday.

Donald F. Lloyd, executive director of the local office, said he has seen plans calling for the consolidation of county ASCS offices into fewer and larger regional offices.

He said goal for the project is apparently June 1974.

Lloyd said he has not received official word of the consolidation effort and does not now know how the Randall County office might figure into a consolidated configuration.

He speculated that the local office might be consolidated with Potter County and Armstrong County with a central office in one of those counties.

"Really, now it is in the planning stages," he said, "but they have told us they're planning on cutting back to less than 100 offices by July 1975."

Lloyd said about 250 ASCS offices are operating in the state now.

The executive director said the move toward consolidation might herald a lessening of government involvement in farm programs.

"I know we couldn't handle all the services we're giving now out of one office," he said. "The ASCS office is responsible for administering and acting as information agency for various federal farm programs."

Lloyd said the consolidation would apparently have no effect on the establishment of county committees, which are made up of local farmers to help administer the federal programs.

"We'd still have committees representing their own counties," he said.

But, he said the county committees might send members to an executive committee to work with Heart Fund Drive Due Mon.

The Annual Heart Fund drive will be under way in Canyon Monday through Thursday, Feb. 5-8, culminating in door-to-door calling by a number of women's volunteer groups on Thursday evening beginning at 7 p.m.

The drive to collect funds for the American Heart Association will be directed by Mrs. Lois Hull and Mrs. Theima Childs, co-chairmen appointed by the sponsoring organization, the University Study Club. Their headquarters will be set up in the hospitality room of the First National Bank for the final day of the drive, Feb. 8.

Women's clubs who have volunteered to assist in the fund drive are Zeta Tau Alpha, Alpha Delta Pi, Canyon Dames, University Study Club, Kappa Delta, and Delta Zeta.

According to the American Heart Association, heart and blood vessel diseases kill more than one million individuals a year, a toll greater than for all other causes combined. Four out of five of the number die of heart attacks or strokes.

A little over half of funds collected by the Texas division were used to prepare programs, films and educational literature to help the public ward off cardiovascular diseases, train professionals in the latest care of heart cases, and carry out community activities.

Scout Member Drive Starts

About 50 persons met Monday and kicked off the 1973 sustaining membership drive for the Boy Scouts of America area council.

Don Tardy, who is heading the drive here, told the participants in the drive that money collected would go to the Llano Estacado Council for dispersion to the Randall County unit of the scouts and other districts in the council area.

He said the money is used for upkeep of Camp Don Harrington, for leadership training programs and for establishment of scouting units.

He noted that in Randall County 366 boys are participating in various scouting programs—from Cub Scouts through Explorers.

He said there are five Cub Scout packs, four Boy Scout troops and five Explorer posts in the county.

Keynote speaker at the luncheon kick-off meeting was Dan McGlasson, an Explorer who earned his Eagle in the Boy Scout program.

McGlasson outlined his scouting career, noting that scouting gave him the opportunity to learn to work closely with other people and to accept responsibility.

Currently, he is involved in the Explorers in the medical field and works in the program at

CANYON RIM

Senator George McGovern made a scurrilous speech in England recently but in one portion of his talk he was dead right.

Newspaper people are not doing their jobs.

We are living in the era of the supermarket, even in news handling. Everything is done up in cellophane ready to warm and eat. It doesn't take much time but then it's not very appetizing either.

The same goes for news. Every bureaucrat and every corporation across the country has his public relations man. Public relations people are good in their place but when their self-complimentary handouts supplant hard news, the country is in trouble.

I'm not blaming the PR people. I blame newspaper people too lazy to dig for the truth and too gutless to face the consequences.

On the eve of a mid-winter Texas Press Association convention in Dallas last week, for instance, I received in the mail a lengthy column about "my" trip to Dallas with the unabashed invitation to write a lead on it and use my own by line.

It wound up in the trash basket, of course.

Reporters — with notable exceptions — have been content to sit on their backsides and accept these ersatz "news" stories which make the writer's boss look good. This is happening especially in Washington but it is also happening everywhere there are men with government money at their disposal bent on kingdom building.

Good unbiased news coverage could do more to turn this country around than anything else in sight.

Reporters who dig can force men with public trust to handle that trust with care and honesty or risk exposure. You can bet your bottom dollar that a public relations man who hands a reporter a story to claim as his own is not going to write anything that would show his employers up in a bad light.

Good reporting requires long hours. It can't be done between 8 and 5. It's no place for a guild man.

It's a job for reporters willing to take a cussing when they call some important official up in the middle of the night to ask a sticky question that must be asked.

It's the place for publishers willing to suffer the commercial consequences when unscrupulous bureaucrats and politicians choose to hurt him in the pocketbook. He knew that might happen when he hired out.

Yes, I have to agree with the senator on this point but I'm encouraged.

I've seen a lot of young journalism students in the last eight years and some of them have had sand in their craw. There still may be hope.

The best answer I've heard yet to the Kennedy, McGovern axis criticism of the so-called military industrial complex was given by an army general on television Tuesday night.

"The answer is simple," he said. "If you want us to step down, tell us."

F. M. McCarty of Amarillo, formerly superintendent of schools at Happy, has written a book about school teaching in the High Plains area.

Several Canyon people have received prominent mention.

Vernon Harman was on the Happy school board and received well-deserved praise in McCarty's "When the Bell Sounded." McCarty said Harman would drop what he was doing to help out wherever he was needed by the community.

Vernon is still that way and Canyon is the richer for having him and Mrs. Harman as citizens here.

There are also chapters about Joe Gibson and Jerry Jacobs. "When the Bell Sounded" should be interesting to area school people since most of them seem to be mentioned somewhere between the covers of ex-Superintendent McCarty's book.

The books are now on sale at Buffalo Book Store, Haley's and the University Book Store.

CHS Homemaker
In State Test

Patricia "Pattie" Ormsby has been selected Canyon High School's 1973 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow and is now eligible to vie for state and national honors, school officials announced this week.

Miss Ormsby, a senior, was selected from a field of eight CHS entrants who took a written knowledge and attitude test on Dec. 5.

She will receive an award from General Mills, sponsor of the annual Betty Crocker search for American Homemakers of Tomorrow.

Patricia Ormsby

The state winner will be selected from school winners throughout Texas with the selection to be based on the Dec. 5 written test.

The State Homemaker of Tomorrow will receive a $1,500 scholarship, and the winner's school will receive a 20-volume reference work, "The Annals of America." The second place state winner will receive a $500 scholarship.

Each state winner will vie for national honors in competition to be held in Washington, D.C., in April. A total of 665,600 seniors are enrolled in this year's search, the first to allow entries by boys. Since the program began in 1954, some nine million students have received more than $2 million in scholarships.

Not Deterred By Government

Andrew Gerdin of El Paso is not one to let governmental foot-dragging deter him from completing a project he has set out to do.

Last October the 21-year-old junior psychology-business major proposed before the Student Senate a need for naming and marking the campus streets at West Texas State University. The Senate decided to study the matter further.

While the senators were mulling over the idea, Gerdin became impatient and began raising money for the project.

Last weekend, with the blessing of the WTSU administration, he erected street signs on the four main campus roads.

"I've always been taught that if there's a will, there's a way," said Gerdin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Gerdin of El Paso.

When the street signs, which had been ordered by the City of Canyon, arrived, Gerdin dug the holes, poured the concrete and put the markers in place.

The $160 cost of the project was paid by donations from five student residence halls.

Gerdin picked out his own names for the streets, calling them University Drive, Buffalo Drive, Victory Drive and Wisdom Road.

Asked how he came by Wisdom as a street name, Gerdin explained:

"The street runs past the Killgore Research Center, the Administration Building and Guenther Hall, which had the highest grade point average on campus last year."

He said he will work with the campus Greek organizations to name the remaining 12 university streets after servicemen who attended WTSU and died in Viet Nam.

Gerdin added that he and sophomore Lori Ingram, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Ingram of Lubbock, researched the Viet Nam memorial idea and prepared a map of the campus for use by the fraternities and sororities.

Just because the street naming program has been successfully initiated, Gerdin's work is not completed.

Andrew Gerdin, El Paso junior, stands beside one of the new street signs he was responsible for obtaining on the campus of West Texas State University. Gerdin, assisted by Lori Ingram (right), Lubbock sophomore, set about naming and marking the campus streets for the first time in the school's history. Gerdin's project had the support of Miss Sandra Meek (left), dean of women, and other members of the student life office.

Girl's White Team 2nd In Dimmitt Tourney

The Canyon girls white team lost the final game of the Dimmitt Freshman Tournament last weekend by one point after reaching the finals on a desperation one-point victory in the semi-finals.

The loss in the final game Saturday night was at the hands of Friona who took the 38-37 win to take the first place trophy.

In the semi-finals, Canyon's white team scored in the last four seconds against Dimmitt whites and won by a score of 39-38.

The first round game for Canyon saw the freshman whites take a 40-20 game from Olton. In that game, played Friday, Robena Johnson tucked away 25 points. Nickie Abbott scored 7, Jo Groves scored 4 and Vanessa Cotton 3.

Johnson also led the attack against Dimmitt in the semifinal game, scoring 24 points, including the game-winning goal just before the buzzer sounded.

Other scorers in the Dimmitt game were Marcie Davis 7, Abbott 4, Brenda Wilhite 2 and Groves 1.

In the final game against Friona, Johnson netted another 24 points while Groves scored 8, Abbott 3 and Wilhite 2.

Canyon's purple team won their first round game by blasting the Dimmitt purples 40-25, but were knocked into the loss column by Friona in a close 52-50 contest.

The purple freshmen girls lost the consolation round to Dimmitt's white by a score of 46-42.

Eight teams took part in the tourney. Behind Friona and Canyon, in third place, was Dimmitt's white team.

Ecology Club Collects Litter

By TOOTIE BYBEE
WELL, DON'T HAVE just a whole lot of news but will give you what I have. First let me say a short (??) personal word from me to you all. Didn't know so very many of you really paid attention to this old column over the year. There are times when the weeks go by and you don't hear from anyone. You think no one is paying a bit of attention to what you are saying. This week has been a BIG blessing to me. Have been so very busy to start with, every night it seemed there was a meeting or something going on. Then when the article about the award I received was in The Canyon Thursday News, the phone just rang off the hook. Thanks to all of you who called, and I really appreciate the very kind words.

The award was a big surprise to me and I was ever so grateful for it because it reflected the truly great group of girls I have the honor of leading, and I do so love them all. Every project, every adventure we have waded into, they have come through like the winners they are. And surely the community can see the mark they have left and the contribution they are making toward a better world and better future for themselves, and others. So, thanks to you all for calling and to the girls for making me look good. Also, (guess I'm in a thankful mood this week) many, many thanks to those who saved the newspapers for us. About fell over when I found out so many were doing this for us. Just goes to show that others care too. Thank you.

DID YOU SEE the group of kiddoes out cleaning up the road sides Tuesday evening? I know a lot of you slowed down and drove carefully around them and wondered what in the world was going on. That was the Ecology Club, and they were having a litter hike. Had a whole batch of litter to discard when they were finished. If we are all more careful they won't have as much to clean up next time. Good job, well done. Mrs. Brooks is the sponsor of this group and they are doing a real good job.

WELL, SINCE THE schools were out Thursday to honor President Johnson, the Thursday Club didn't get together. But just must report that Betty Malson has really improved after having her tonsils out. She is up and around and it really surprised me. She gave me the secret. Chew bubble gum—yep that's right. She said she has chewed a big bag of bubble gum since getting out of the hospital. It just hurts to think about it.

THANK YOU JOHNNIE J. for calling Mrs. Cook so she would call me! Was so very glad to get the latest on our sweet Stanley Cook. He is still down on their farm working and learning the fine art of farming and managing. Said he was just doing great and getting along fine, and from the look of things (??) the other day I will certainly agree. A very fine boy, Stanley.

THE GILL GILLIES are sporting a pretty new brown car. Wish I knew more about the kind of cars, but I don't. Am real good on colors and it is a pretty new brown car.

THE MITCHELLS HAVE just returned from a vacation trip to Dallas. They visited with JoAnn's brother's family, Spike, Trini and Robby Mehan. The only thing that I could find out from Brent that they saw was a trick motorcycle named "The Great Houdini" who jumped 15 vans and diesel truck in a single leap and it happened so fast you just weren't too sure you saw it at all.

THE SIOUX TRIBE of Indian Guides met in the Brooks home this past Thursday. They welcomed two new members, Henry Wiggers and son and Tracy Stogner and son. They discussed a current project, which is building their own Tee Pee for meetings, etc. Sounds like a real exciting project for a bunch of boys.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY BELATED, to Mr. Parks. Can't believe I had his age right, looks so much younger—was really surprised. Must be all that bicycling he does. Made me start a program of bicycling every afternoon. Afraid it's almost too late to help me much! Enjoyed so much my little visit with the Crews last week. My daughters especially got a bang out of the little train, "The Spirit of 1776." If you are a needlepoint fan, stop by and see all the lovelies Mrs. Crews has created. Just beautiful. All sorts of owls, mushrooms and other things so pretty.

MRS. CLEMENTS, SORRY I missed you. Will catch you again. You have two very polite and sweet children.

MY SIGN OFF, that's all for the week. Just wanted to mention, have you noticed the scrub jays and mountain bluebirds and little finches around this week? The wind blew one of my feeders to the blazes and the rest were in shock but the little birds came anyway and ate off the ground. Do something nice this week, feed a birdie!!

Zilka Hearing Still Awaited

Anthony Martin Zilka was scheduled to appear before Judge E. E. "Gene" Jordan last week to determine whether he should receive a new trial in connection with the mid-1960s rape of a 3-year-old girl.

However, the hearing has been postponed indefinitely due to Zilka's health. He underwent surgery in December and doctors at the state penitentiary said he could not undergo the hearing for at least six weeks.

A date for the hearing has not yet been set.

Zilka was found guilty in the mid-1960s of the rape of the 3-year-old daughter of his common-law wife and sentenced to the penitentiary.

During the fall, he filed a writ of habeas corpus claiming he is entitled to a new trial due to evidence submitted against him in his initial trial in Randall County.

Xi Kappa Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi presented Neblett Memorial Hospital with a new wheel chair purchased with earnings from the Little Miss Canyon Pageant held last fall. The presentation was made last Saturday morning by members Mrs. Herbert Kuhlman, center, and Miss Virginia Rossiter to Ray Grimes, administrator.

Bufs Back Home Today To Play Shockers

After suffering a pair of Missouri Valley Conference defeats on the road last week and losing the services of freshman sensation Reginald Ramey from two to four weeks, West Texas State University's Buffalo basketball team returns to the more friendly confines of Amarillo's Civic Center Coliseum.

The Buffaloes host Wichita State's Shockers at 7:30 p.m. today in a Missouri Valley Conference contest. The Buffaloes have their eyes set on two things—winning their second MVC contest of their first year in Valley competition and gaining revenge on an earlier non-conference loss to the Shockers.

Last week the Buffaloes fell 81-79 to North Texas and 88-55 to St. Louis in road action. The loss to St. Louis was even tougher to take as 6-8 Philadelphia freshman Reginald Ramey broke his right index finger while reaching for a pass under the goal. He apparently jammed his finger against a bolt on the back side of the backboard.

Ramey, who is scoring 16.7

points per game for the season and averaging 10.7 rebounds, will be lost from two to four weeks. In Valley play he was scoring 18.2 points per game and pulling in 8.2 rebounds.

The Buffaloes, who are 1-4 in Valley play, lost earlier this year to the Shockers of coach Harry Miller in a consolation bracket game at Houston's Bluebonnet Bowl Classic, 88-82.

The Buffs will remain at home for a return game Monday with the North Texas State Eagles.

In games last year, the Buffaloes dropped a pair to the Shockers. Wichita State edged the Buffs, 70-65, in Amarillo and took a 103-73 decision in Wichita.

Thursday will be Kids Night at the Amarillo Civic Center Coliseum. All children, 12 years of age and under, will be able to sit at the north end of the coliseum free of charge. The night is sponsored by the Tascosa National Bank. Whitney Printing Company sponsored a Kids Night for the Loyola of Los Angeles game two weeks ago.

It will be Ladies Night for the North Texas State game Monday. All ladies will be admitted free with one paid admission.

Girl Eagles Blast Shamrock By 79-43

The Canyon girl Eagles traveled to Shamrock Monday night and came home with a rousing 79-43 victory. The Canyon JV girls also won a runaway, beating Shamrock 64-20.

Kim Killingsworth hit the basket for 24 points and also led in rebounds with six. Alisha Nelson, another high scorer for the Eagles, did not play due to illness.

Other scores for the Canyon sextet were Mendy Sternberg with 21, Carla Swartzell with 15, Sheryl Gunter with 14, Sheryl Adams with three and Diane Harp with two.

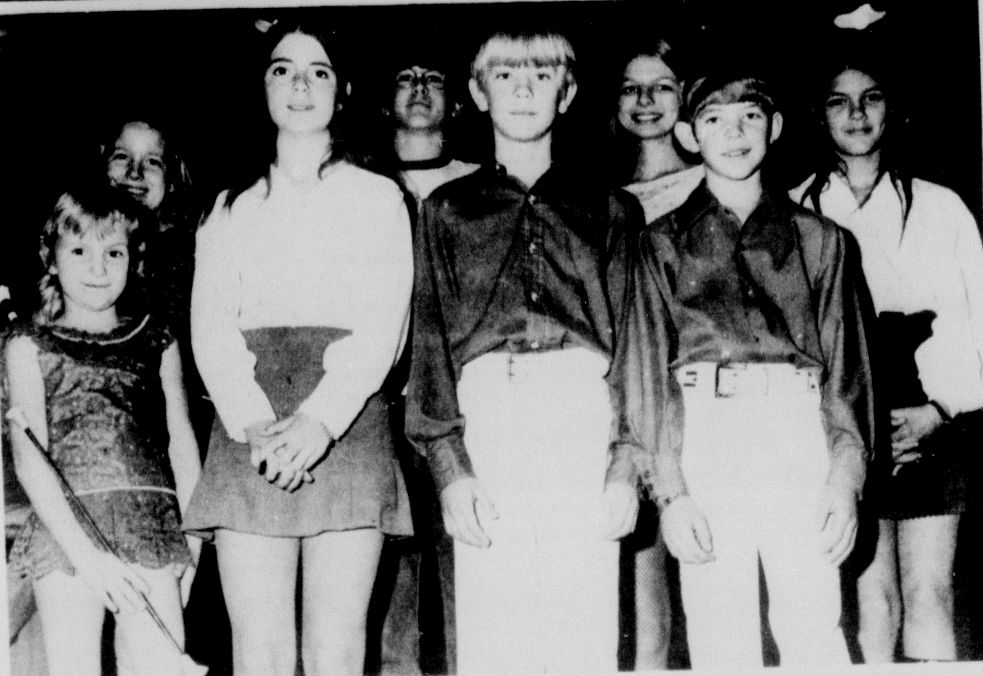

Behind Killingsworth in the rebounding department were Lynn Davis with five, Rhonda Umberson with four, Susan Hull with three, Sheryl Gunter, Carla Swartzell and Judy McBroom with two each, and Mendy Sternberg with one.

Coach Bob Schneider rated his guards in the following order. Rhonda Umberson plus-11, Lynn Davis plus-9, Judy McBroom plus-6, Susan Hull plus-5, Carla Ratliff plus-3, Debbie Abbott plus-2, and Cindy Bullock plus-1.

Against Shamrock, the Eagles jumped out in front with a first quarter score of 18-10 and then added to the lead throughout the remainder of the game. At halftime, the score was Canyon 37, Shamrock 21. The final period began with the Eagles leading 58-27.

Canyon girls now boast a 25-5 season record and stand 0-1 in district play. They go to Friona Friday night for a non-title contest, and do not play for the district crown again until Feb. 9 when Muleshoe comes to town.

Sorority Due Installation

Installation of Kappa Delta national women's social sorority at West Texas State University will be conducted this weekend.

The Epsilon Beta Chapter, colonized on the WTSU campus last Sept. 25, will receive its charter and the first 21 pledges and 11 honor initiates will be initiated into the sorority.

Kappa Delta, which celebrated its 75th anniversary last year and is the oldest of four sororities founded at Longwood College in Virginia, becomes the sixth such organization at West Texas State.

The Epsilon Beta Chapter will be the 11th collegiate chapter now active.

National and province officers, university officials, sorority alumnae and active members from other Kappa Delta chapters in Texas will be present for the event.

The three-day ceremony commences at 7 p.m. Friday (Feb. 2) at the Canyon Community Center when candidates for the second degree are received.

The initiation ceremony leading to full membership in the sorority for pledges and honor initiates will be at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Episcopal University Center in Canyon.

Installation of the chapter will take place at a 7:30 p.m. banquet at the Tascosa Country Club in Amarillo. Mrs. W.E. Raab of 3808 Torre, Amarillo is installation chairman.

Mrs. John Meisner of Englewood, Colo., national president, will present the charter to Terri Donovan, Canyon junior and pledge class president. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Donovan of 2604 9th Ave., Canyon.

Mrs. Meisner will give the principal address at the banquet.

Welcoming remarks will be made by Dr. Ray A. Malzahn, WTSU academic vice president, and Miss Mary Lou Farnum, assistant dean of women.

A "Baby Cup," emblematic of the newest chapter in the sorority, will be presented by representatives of the most recently installed chapter in Texas—Delta Epsilon at Pan American University.

Cindy McLane, pledge class vice president and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McLane of Denver City, will respond to the welcoming addresses.

Other special guests at the installation will be Mrs. Kenneth Gallagher of Stillwater, Okla., national vice president; Miss Sue Irion of Ottawa, Ill., national collegiate advisor; and Mrs. Dick Crill of Lubbock, province president.

The installation of Epsilon Beta Chapter was the culmination of two years work by the Amarillo alumnae of Kappa Delta to bring the sorority to West Texas State said Mrs. Jack Riley of Amarillo, publicity chairman.

Mrs. Steve Jenkins of Amarillo is alumnae chapter president. Mrs. John Lawson of Amarillo is alumnae advisory board chairman and Mrs. Allan Carelton of 1422 9th Ave., Canyon, is chairman-elect.

Mrs. Bob McCasland of Happy was pledge trainer for the new chapter. Mrs. Peter R. Garre of Amarillo was banquet chairman and Mrs. Carol Stephens of reception chairman.

A reception will be held from 2-3:30 p.m. Sunday at the Activities Center ballroom on campus honoring the national officers, the initiates and other guests.

Kappa Delta has as its national philanthropy the Crippled Children's Hospital at Richmond, Va.

The honor initiates into Kappa Delta are: Mrs. Carl Benson of 3304 Palmetto, Mrs. Maurice Dyer of 2414 Teckla, Mrs. Denny Frazee of 2613 S. Hughes and Mrs. Kenneth Flamm of 4406 N. 3rd, all of Amarillo.

Art Awards To Be Offered

More than $1,000 in scholarships and cash prizes will be offered in Matrix I, West Texas State University's first competition for high school and junior college art students.

The open media competition is scheduled April 1-8 with the deadline for entries March 28, it was announced this week.

Mike McCullough, graduate assistant in the WTSU art department and coordinator of the contest, said competition will be in two divisions—high school and junior college. No entry fee will be charged, he said.

Contest requirements stipulate that all paintings must be framed and wired and all three-dimensional work be free-standing and of reasonable size and weight, McCullough added.

He said it was tentatively planned to award a scholarship to WTSU to the top entry in each division and to give cash prizes to other winning works.

Winners in the six categories will receive silver rings commemorating the contest, he said. These were cast by Darold D. Smith, WTSU art professor and well-known metal sculptor.

Dr. Emilio Caballero, art department chairman, said Matrix I will offer the opportunity for aspiring artists to receive exposure for their work.

Entries will be displayed from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Sunday during the run of the show in the Activities Center ballroom on campus.

F.M. McCarty is shown here scanning his latest book, "When the Bell Sounded." It is devoted to school teaching in this area and mentions several Canyon people.

Reception Honors K.A. Crosslands

A reception honoring Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Aubrey Crossland was given Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Charles Nester, Palo Duro Highway.

The honorees were recently married in Houston and have moved to Canyon, where Dr. Crossland plans to establish his dental practice. They are the son and daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Crossland.

Finger sandwiches, tiny eclairs, cider and coffee were served at a table centered with an arrangement of spring flowers. Hostesses were corsages of miniature dental instruments, lace and ribbon. Mrs. Cumi Cook, Dr. Crossland's aunt of Amarillo, and Mrs. George Bulman poured.

Co-hostesses for the reception were Mes. Hatcher Brown, Sidney Burgess, Robert Busteed, Hugh Greiner, Avert Lair, Borden Price, George Ritter, J.B. Roberts, William R. Wilson, and Charles E. Wright.

WT Masquers To Stage Two Plays

Two student-directed productions, "A Company of Wayward Saints" and "A Man for All Seasons" will highlight the West Texas State University Buffalo Masquers Workshop, scheduled Feb. 2-4 in the Branding Iron Theatre.

Attending the workshop will be teachers and students from 30 area high schools. The event is designed to prepare the students for competition in the Interscholastic League One-Act Play Contest, to be held later this spring.

In addition to receiving coaching and counseling from WTSU drama students, participants will be briefed by ULL state director Lynn Murray of Austin, who will attend the meet on Saturday. Public performance of "A Company of Wayward Saints" is scheduled at 8 p.m. Friday in the BIT, with a workshop performance scheduled at 9:15 a.m. Saturday.

"A Man for All Seasons" is scheduled for workshop performance at 7 p.m. Saturday and for public performance at 5 p.m., Feb. 4. The public may attend any of the performances, said William A. Moore, associate professor of drama.

Admission is $1 for adults, 75 cents for students and 50 cents for WTSU students with ID cards.

Sara Hard, graduate student from Amarillo and director of "Company," describes the show as a "sometimes irreverent but highly meaningful play in the Italian Commedia dell'Arte

Canyon Woman's Father Dies

The father of a Canyon woman, Walter Lee Nabours, 81, of Demming, N.M., died Jan. 10 in Demming.

Mr. Nabours was the father of Mrs. Thelma Jo Foster of 2305 6th Ave., and the grandfather of Richard and A.L. Pruett of Canyon.

Another grandson, Jack Pruett, lives in Lubbock.

Mr. Nabours was a retired farmer and had lived in the Demming area since 1934.

style." The work focuses on the attempt of a down-and-out acting troupe to control their elephantine egos and learn to meld themselves into a group.

"Man for All Seasons," Miss Newman's dramatic project, is considered one of the greatest 20th century works for theatre, standing out not only as a dramatic masterpiece, but also a work of major philosophical import and one displaying a high degree of historical authenticity.

Playwright Robert Bolt takes from the Catholic Church's repository of saints the character of Sir Thomas More, and apologizes for depicting him less as a Christian martyr than as a man "with an adamant sense of his own self."

The cast of "A Company of Wayward Saints" includes Travis Dean as Harlequin, Cindy Newman as Columbine, Don Washburn as Scapino, Marla Rupp as Ruffiana, Billy Black as Tristano, Vicki McFarlin as Isabella, Steve Dwyer as Pantalone, Ron Devoe as Capitano, and Matt Ohmes as Dottore. It will be directed by Sara Hard, a graduate student.

"A Man for All Seasons" will feature the talents of Lynn Mathis as The Common Man, Travis Dean as Sir Thomas More, Ronnie Williams as Richard Rich, Doug Stewart as The Duke of Norfolk, Matt Ohmes as Cardinal Wolsey, Don Washburn as Thomas Cromwell, Rene Clemente as Signor Chapuys, Scott Johnson as Attendant, David Watkins as King Henry VIII, Jeff Langley as William Roper, Scott Johnson as Cranmer, Sara Hard as Alice More, and Valerie McCarthy as Margaret More.

Buffalo Masquers is sponsored by James D. Kemmerling, speech instructor, assisted by William and Margaret Moore, all of the speech and drama department at WTSU.

The Masquers' Workshop opens with registration at 7:30 a.m. and includes sessions on scene painting, make-up, costuming, lighting, and stage movement in addition to the two plays.

Amarillo sophomore Travis Dean stands menacingly between the company femme fatale Amarillo freshman Marla Rupp and his "shrewish wife" Hobbs, N.M., graduate student Cindy Newman in the West Texas State University Experimental Theatre production of "A Company of Wayward Saints" scheduled for Feb. 2. The play, and a Feb. 4 presentation of "A Man For All Seasons," is scheduled for the WT Branding Iron Theatre at 8 p.m. Admission is $1 for adults, 75 cents for students and 50 cents for WTSU students with ID cards.

Palisades Palaver

Fifth And Sixth Grade Girls Form Club For Fun And Learning

By MILDRED TURNER

A BRAND NEW club is in the process of being organized in the Palisades and this area. It doesn't even have a name yet, but they are working on it. Whether it is the "Merry Makers," "Happy Go Luckies," "Busy Beavers," or "Bug Hunters," it will be fun. Their plans include: cooking, sewing, gardening, learning to care for clothing, help around the house, yard and community, visiting points of interest such as the bakery, the bank, children's home, fire station, police department, going hiking, biking, swimming and camping, etc. The present members are fifth and sixth graders: Christy Fleming, Susan McDonald, Debbie Detten, Kathy Webb, Lisa Williams, Molly Duddenhoser, Sherri Seitz and Susan Inman. Becky Hall, Randall County Home Demonstration Agent, will help with material programs, and suggestions similar to 4-H work. Judy Detten is the group leader, assisted by Lorraine Inman, Joyce McDonald and Judy Webb. For more info call 622-0191 (Judy Detten) or any one of the members bubbling with information.

SHARI BOOTHE WAS a guest of Susan Shenk's last Friday night.

BRAD AND GLENDA Holdaway and Belva Turner spent the weekend in Dallas where they visited Glenda's sister, Gene and Vicky Costley and Kenny Custer. Sunday was Belva's 21st birthday. They got a bang out of eating at "Friday's" where the setting and songs are 1940ish.

GUESTS OF REBA and Buster Guess recently were: M.M. Carroll, Mary Sutton, Bob Darough, Ross and Becky Guess. Reba Guess attended the national Mother-in-Law meeting at the Federated Women's Club in Amarillo Monday.

GOT MY W-2 form from the Canyon News and I remembered my thoughts as I opened the envelope containing my first check. I'd go buy me a new typewriter or a whole new outfit. I didn't do anything like that but I did go buy me a new belt to hold up my old outfit!

TWO SHERRIS ON the bus took a survey on "Would a rather be a boy or a girl?" Answers included: "I'd rather be the beater than the egg," "I'd rather be the hammer than the nail," "I'd rather be a boy than a girl or I wouldn't be sitting here with you," (last one from Michael McGahey). Results: most boys would rather be boys and most girls would rather be girls. Some of the younger girls would rather be boys because "boys get to do everything without asking," etc.

SHERRI JACKSON, A junior, is "happy" to be back in Canyon schools (where she started in the 2nd grade). Last semester she attended Monterey High in Lubbock. She is living with the David Ritters during the school week. Her parents, the Richard Jacksons, are living in Lubbock while he is building on a huge addition to the Methodist Church. After buying a larger trailer to use while there, they sold the other one to son Ricky. Some one asked is Ricky getting married? Ricky says, "No, I'm still looking." The Jacksons spend the weekends out here at home, meanwhile Theo's parents (Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Jones) hold down the fort on the hill.

ROBIN KOCH, DAUGHTER of Robert and Lynda Koch, was in St. Anthony's Hospital recently but is doing fine now. She is the Richard Jackson's granddaughter. Although Lynda grew up here in the Palisades, she does not live far away (Umbarger).

JUDY AND GENE Webb, Clay and Chris Lindsey attended the motorcycle races in Houston

CJHS White Teams Win Two Of Three

The white teams of Canyon Junior High School won two of three basketball games played Monday against River Road School of Amarillo.

The seventh grade white team, after leading 8-7 at halftime, dropped a 17-16 decision for Canyon's loss.

The eighth graders won 26-14. They led at the half 17-6.

The ninth grade team walked away with a 65-22 contest in which they led at halftime 34-6.

In the seventh grade outing, Linda Warren led scorers with six points while Glenda Williams netted five, Kim Wallace four and Susie Wright one.

Eight grade scoring was Lisa Cathey 17, Becky Williams five and Vickie Miller four.

The freshmen girls were led by Robenna Johnson with 29, while Nicki Abbott and Jo Groves picked up 11 each. Other scorers were Diane Hunt with six and Brenda Wilhite and Kelly Cox with four each.

over the weekend. While there, they saw J.R. Horne (Penton Motorcycles) and Joe Moss from the Palisades. Between races the couples slipped out to see the Busch Gardens. Judy said they were smaller than the ones in Los Angeles but with similar settings. They were told this one is being moved to Florida. The birds in the one in L.A. talked, put on shows, rode a miniature motorcycle, and many chose to live there without being caged. After this adventure they rushed back to the Astrodome for another race. The racers were from all over the states. On the way home they waved at the Jack Stevens down around Abilene (small world).

SUSAN BOOTHE SPENT last Friday night as a guest of Shari Williams.

SPEAKING OF LITTLE red wagons (last week), you know every time there is an accident there are many versions of just "how" it all happened. Well, Lum was on his tractor in his icy driveway and Joyce, in her little red wagon, came over an icy hill...

...they got together in the icy street. Joyce had a door that would not open, front end damage and Lum had some front end damage. Reminds me of the time one of the Palisades boys came into contact with a big buck deer. The kid thought the deer was alright because it ran off. Some one said the deer jumped in front of the car, another said the deer hit the side of the car (which is probably what happened) it was mentioned a dog may have been chasing the deer so the deer may have been "speeding." Some one took the antlers and another remarked as we viewed the body, "Looks like the deer may have been backing up at the time of the accident!"

I MISSED THESE when I called last weekend. Robbie Forster, Betty Wright, Jackie Horne, Billye Brackeen, Elizabeth Timmons, Edith Stevens.

ACCIDENTALLY "STUM-BLED" ONTO a burglar alarm system after I antiqued my chairs last week. After the last coat of paint on the bottom sides, I left them turned upside down on papers in the kitchen to dry. This makes a wonderful "system" but make sure there are no old forgetful seniles running loose in the house or you may be doctoring a toe or nose instead of stopping the "would be burglars."

THAT'S ALL FROM Korny Korners this week. See you next week.

electric heating estimate

an eye-opener for:

makes molehills out of mountains

Why sift through a heap of information about heating? An accurate, easily understood estimate of what it would cost to heat the electric way makes the decision easy. It makes any ideas about electric heating costing too much come apart at the seams. It's the moment of truth when customers decide to switch to the total comfort of electric heat. Let us make a believer out of you. Call us. The estimate is free, accurate and a real eye-opener.

Students and instructors from 20 colleges and universities swelled the audience Friday at West Texas State University to hear Dr. Charlotte Lee, center, give readings at an Oral Interpretation Festival on campus. Dr. Jack Walker, chairman of the WTSU speech department, and Dr. Zell SoRelle, associate professor of speech, pose with Dr. Lee during a break in the festival activity. Dr. Lee is professor of oral interpretation at Northwestern University School of Speech.

Happy News

Mrs. Mayes Is Showered - Rainbow Installation Draws Crowd

By MARY NEAL HENRY
HAPPY COWBELLES WILL entertain their valentines with a party on Saturday, Feb. 10 at 7 p.m. in the basement of the Methodist Church. They plan to play "42." We had so much fun at Christmas time.

FIRST BAPTIST Church is having an adult Valentine Banquet on February 9, at 7 p.m. in the fellowship hall of the church.

SUNDAY WAS BAPTIST Men's Day. Pete Partlow of Vigo Park brought the message. Mr. Partlow had gone on the Old Mexico Mission trip on which 250 people were saved. He said the people in the villages were hungry to hear about Jesus. Other visitors were the Ritchie Starks of Claytonville and Harley Peoples of Plainview. Fern Spear's Nina and Casey were "home" and in the service.

TISHA SELVIDGE WAS eight years on Tuesday of last week. LaWana blew up 250 (she said) balloons and hung them everywhere. Streamers also decorated the party room. "Tisha" was spelled out in crepe paper letters on one wall. Took eight girls five minutes to pop all those balloons. Angelique Henry, Kay Lynn Stubblefield, Joanna Hurst, Connie Venhaus, Tammy Williams, Rocelia Vandergriff, Molly Parker and birthday girl Tish Selvidge played "Pin the Tail on the Donkey," "Rotten Egg," and "Follow the Leader," under the direction of Rhnea Selvidge. Red and white cake decorated with animals on a carousel, ice cream and cokes were served. The girls received favors of bags of candy, gum and balloons. Ramona Elliott was a special guest of the party.

MARILYN COPE, DAUGHTER of Kirksy and Van Cope, will wed Brad Raymond, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.B. Raymond, in Tulsa, on Friday, April 6. They will be married in the groom's home.

KATHY AND JERRAL Mayes opened their gifts of their bridal shower on Friday evening at Mary Jane Miller's home. day.
ON SATURDAY AFTER-NOON, guests were received by Mary Jane Miller, Kathy Mayes, Delores Allen and Mary Mayes and registered Tracey Allen, sister of the bride. Debra Jackson, Linda Briscoe, Glinda Dempsey and Linda Swanson served hot spiced tea, coffee, cookies, mints and nuts from silver and crystal appointments. A centerpiece of artificial flowers exactly matching the bridesmaids' dresses and tapers decorated the table. Hostesses for the occasion were: Mary Jane Miller, Joan McDonald, Joyce Wheat, Bernice Morris, Becky Bishop, Vivian Woods, Darlene Cole, Wilma Briscoe, Willie Butler, Jane Thornton, Mildred Devin, Willa Elliott, Inez Shipmen, Nan Earl Gearthreux, Betty Donnell, Camma Lou Tackitt, LaVenna Jackson and Debbie, Polly Walters, Alice McGehee, Coleen Schaeffer, Fern Spear, Ruth Sims, Estelle Rogers, Pat Hargrave, Wanda Bates, Modenia Rahlfs, Mary Johnson, Charlotte Weavers, Lena Belle Cabe, Nig Taylor, Deena Morrison, Phyla Harman, Billie Pearson, Novlene Toles, and Mary Neal Henry. Out of town guests included Frances Latham, Earma Pyle and Imogene Milican of Amarillo.

JEANETTA MCNEILL ATTENDED the bridal shower for Cynthia and Jimmy in Fritch on Thursday evening of last week. Sonny and Jimmy also went to Fritch and stayed with B.F. Nail during the shower. The shower was an "old fashioned" seated shower and held at the band building in Fritch. The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth over a royal blue undercloth and centered with blue and white flowers. Decorated cakes, nuts, mints, punch and coffee were served the guests. Jeanetta thought it a lovely shower. Been a long time since I've been to a shower where you sit down, open the gifts, and pass them all around.

DOREEN MODISETTE AND Estelle Rogers attended Kathy Allen's bridal shower in Happy last Saturday. Mrs. Dayle Cullwell of Vigo Park was also a guest.

PAT AND BOB Christenson of Lubbock were visiting LaMoine and Ira Schrib on Sunday. Bob recently was promoted to shop foreman at Turner Ford in Lubbock. This made the family very happy because of health reasons. Bob seems to be somewhat "allergic" to grease. Jim and Linda Schrib of Plainview were also weekend guests of Moines' and Ira's. They enjoyed the family get-together.

SONYA AND SHANNON Selvidge are visiting their grandparents this week while Nancy and Sharrrel Selvidge are attending a Farm Bureau meeting in Dallas. Sonya and Shannon will spend part of the week with Ira and Moine Schrib and the rest with Curley and Bud Selvidge. Sunday, both sets of parents plan to meet Sharrrel and Nancy halfway with the children and all be together for awhile.

THOSE OF YOU who know Lillian Lindsey of Silverton, A.T. Brooks of Silverton who passed away Monday, January 22, was Lillian's brother. He had been a patient for two days in Northwest Texas Hospital.

CHARLES EVANS AND George Uselding were both at work at school on Monday. Here's wishing them good health for awhile.

FAYE AND FOSTER Parker returned Tuesday night from the Caribbean Cruise they had taken. Red and Martha Parker also went on the tour. Oma Lee Lowry has been with Faye and Foster's girls.

TWO HOUSE FIRES occurred in Happy recently. Both were minor. (That is a salute to Happy's volunteer fire department.) Becky and Curtis Bishop had a grease fire on their cook top in their kitchen. Byron Collins had a fire in the bathroom of his home in the vicinity of the hot water heater.

SODA, PLAIN OLD baking soda, is the handiest fire extinguisher near a cook top or oven. A simple sprinkle of soda will do the trick!

THE TRISTATE Rodeo Club of Happy met last Thursday night to make plans to attend the Amarillo High School rodeo this weekend. Eight of Happy's members plan to participate.

He showed a film, "Eat to Your Heart's Content," and spoke on "Hope for the Future."

CLIME BLACKBURN, REGIONAL Coordinator, called the roll. Each club answered with a resume of their latest activities. Plans are being made to attend the District Convention in Amarillo February 24.

MISS KAREN SIMS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Sims was installed as Worthy Advisor of Happy Assembly #202 on Saturday evening. Ora Mary Sims gave the welcome. The invocation was given by George Tiry. Mary Ann Sims introduced Barbara Dowd, Grand Representative from Mississippi to Texas. Grand Assembly of Texas. Order of the Rainbow for Girls and then Mrs. Sara Tiry.

MRS. EVELYN DOWD was installed the Mother Advisor for this year. Advisory Board present to be installed were: Lynell Andrews, Mary Neal Henry, Ora Mary Sims, Willa Jane Elliott, McManigal, Nora Taylor, Gladys Haley and Alden Mann.

KAREN SIMS ADDED her welcome to those already extended and thanked everyone for coming. She introduced her family, expressed her thanks, and outlined her term of office. Karen's theme is Wisdom; her symbol is the burning candle; her flower, the carnation; her colors, light blue, dark blue, and silver; her song, "Let It Be," her scripture, "So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom." Psalms 90:12, and her motto: "The flame of wisdom burns brightly."

KAREN DEDICATED HER term to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Sims, and Dorothy Magness. Only Lena Sims was present to accept the honor. The others learned of it later. Eugene Sims gave the benediction.

GRAND CROSS OF Color served refreshments of punch, mints, nuts, and cakes to about ninety people.

THE SENIOR MOMS met on Monday morning at school to plan the reception which will precede the Sweetheart Banquet on Saturday, February 10. This reception is to honor the seniors and a grand march will take the students into the banquet hall. This year, the senior parents (dads as well as moms) are being invited to come and see their children in one of their finest hours. Last year's reception, the first, seemed a success. Let's hope this year is even better.

JUNIOR HIGH PLAYED basketball at Cotton Center on Monday night. That was my first trip to Cotton Center, but we had a grandmother who hadn't seen a ball game, so we went. It was a good game, too. Their little boys walked out on the court and we thought it'd be easy, but those little guys were all over everywhere. The score ended in their favor 16 to 14. We outplayed them the last half, because we made nine points to their four. It was exciting. The girls made a good start in their game. They looked good. The first quarter ended 6 to 6. But the final score was 14 to 36 in their favor. The girls played a much better game than last week at any rate. Lisa Payne made two points that we didn't get to count.

IT ISN'T TOO late to consign any item to the Happy Jaycee Auction on February 10. Call George Tiry at 749-4692 or Dick Foster at 764-2182. The auction will begin about 10 a.m.

CONGRATULATIONS TO CATHY LaRoe for winning that national wool contest. Cathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley LaRoe.

John Denver To Be At WTSU Feb. 11

Blonde, bespectacled musician-composer John Denver will open the West Texas State University Student Activities Council program series at 8 p.m. Feb. 11 in the campus fieldhouse.

The folk-rock entertainer, a former architecture major at a Texas Tech University, made the big time with his composition, "Leaving on a Jet Plane," which has been recorded by Peter, Paul and Mary, who had a million-seller with it. Claudine Longet, Liza Minelli, Eddy Arnold and several others.

With only one previous solo album to his credit, he emerged in 1969 as a performer in his own right, appearing on television talk shows and playing the campus circuit.

Recently he narrated and starred in the NBC television special, "Big Horn Country," a tale of the Rocky Mountain country, where Denver now makes his home.

Depicted as "the complete spokesman of his under-thirty generation," Denver has espoused the philosophy that "music is not so much a form of entertainment, but a life style of people—like Woodstock."

Before signing an exclusive RCA contract, Denver was for four years a member of the Mitchell Trio, having been selected from more than 250 other applicants to fill the spot formerly held by acclaimed performer Chad Mitchell.

Describing himself as an "Air Force brat," Denver received his education in schools all over the country. His family was at one time stationed at Walker Air Force Base, Roswell, N.M.

He began taking guitar lessons as a youngster, starting on an old 1910 Gibson instrument given him by his grandmother, and later progressing to six and 12-string guitar.

After attending Texas Tech, he decided to try his wings on the West Coast, where he was hired by folk impresario Randy Sparks.

He made his album debut in 1969 with "Rhymes and Reasons" and in 1970 released his second RCA album, "Take Me Tomorrow," which contained six Denver originals.

Of his work as a performer, he says, "I don't want to entertain people. I want to touch them."

In recent months he has appeared at the University of Cincinnati, Bowling Green University, University of Minnesota and North Dakota State University.

Tickets, on sale at the Activities Center, are priced at $4 for the public and $3 for WTSU non-dormitory students when purchased in advance. Tickets are free to dormitory residents with entertainment cards if picked up in advance.

The afternoon group of library helpers at Gene Howe Elementary School are Lisa Erwin, Mark Podzemny, Kendra Wallis and Tammy Thompson, shown here with librarian Miss Elizabeth Wilson. The students stay until 4 p.m. each day helping and learning.

Students Learn By Doing At Gene Howe Library

The Gene Howe Elementary School library, like other libraries in the Canyon school system, offers more than just books to read. It is the center of research, creativity and visual-aid programs.

It also offers students a chance to work and learn the operation of a library system and its responsibilities.

Under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Wilson, school librarian, eight selected students are used as "library helpers."

The eight, divided into morning and afternoon groups, are chosen by Miss Wilson and other members of the faculty. The students serve in that capacity for one full semester.

During the first semester this year, the morning group has been Connie Coffelt, Janice Delany, Christy Allen and Terry Rudd. The afternoon group has been Lisa Erwin, Mark Podzemny, Kendra Wallis and Tammy Thompson. All are sixth grade students.

The morning group comes to the library at 8 a.m. each day and works with Miss Wilson before classes convene. The afternoon group stays after school dismisses, until 4 p.m., also doing various library chores.

According to Miss Wilson, the helpers have four main duties. They check books in and out, replace books in returned books, replace books in their proper shelf spaces and each is responsible for keeping a specific shelf area in order.

"It's good experience for them," said Miss Wilson. "And they know they have to be here," she said of their responsibilities.

The librarian said she had always used student helpers and had found them interested and well qualified. This year's first semester group included only two boys, Miss Wilson said she had more boys last year, including one who professed a desire to become a librarian.

The students duties are rotated each week, said Miss Wilson. She said this gave them more varied experience.

Juniorette Club May Be Formed

Invitations to a coke party at 3 p.m., Sunday afternoon in the Community Center have been mailed out by Canyon Study Club this week to all high school girls. The purpose of the get-together is to feel out interest in forming a juniorette club for girls in Canyon, according to Mrs. James Lundy, president of Canyon Study Club.

The purposes and activities of such a proposed club will be explained by Mrs. Don Max Vars, Mrs. Weyman Brown, and Mrs. Lundy. The project is being chaired by Mrs. Dale Newman.

Any interested girl on the sophomore through senior level will be eligible to join the club. The members will be occupied primarily in civic work under the supervision of Canyon Study Club. Their meetings will include business, program, refreshments, and social activities.

Mrs. Lundy said that juniorette clubs have been activated in other towns in the state, mentioning that Dumas has three.

Along The Grapevine

By MARY ALICE HINES

MANY SMALL TOWNS do not welcome new people readily. Often people sit back and wait for the outsider to prove himself. Canyon slaps you on the back and says, "Hey, I'm glad you're here!"

I FOUND FRIENDLY neighbors, friendly faces in the stores and on the streets. Hospitality is an important asset to a college town. Canyon sees many new faces every year — students and faculty members.

KEN AND KAREN Crossland received this warm welcome last Sunday at the reception held in their home of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Nester.

ONE THING I noticed at the reception was the number of young adults from Canyon who have returned here to settle down. Many small towns are diminishing because their young people are not coming back to rejuvenate the town. Good Grief! My column is turning into sentimental mush. Oh Well, let's just call this one my Valentine to Canyon.

I TOOK THE deluxe tour of the new offices of the McGlasson and Cox law firm. The building really dressed up the square. For awhile the square looked rather bleak with several empty buildings. Now they are filled and remodeled and several other businesses have redecorated. The result — an attractive and lively square.

JOE COOPER WAS in town over the weekend, visiting his brother, Benny, and his family. Joe has a grocery store in Tucuman, New Mexico.

TAKING MY SON, Brett, for a haircut is rarely eventful, but last week it was. In the barbershop, I visited with Dr. Walter H. Juniper. Dr. Juniper vaguely remembered me but I will never forget him. He helped prepare my graduating class for commencement as he had my brother's class ten years earlier.

He played an important role in thousands of students' lives. His role is just as vital now at the classroom level. He told me he is one of the few administrators who ever got to return to their first love — teaching. To this man and many of his students, Latin is not a dead language — it is alive and well, living in Canyon, Texas.

MARY LOU FARNUM, Weldon Trace and Paige Carruth attended the Mountain Plains Deans Conference in Colorado Springs over the weekend. Sunday, their plane left the airport but returned shortly because of the weather. They were glad to finally plant their feet on good ole Texas soil.

I NEED YOUR help! How can I write about you if you don't tell me what you are doing? Let me hear from you, call 655-9978.

License Plates Now Available

Randall County motorists can pick up license plates for the family car starting today at the county tax office.

The motorist may register his vehicle in person at the county tax office by bringing in the entire three-part form he received in the mail from the Texas Highway Department. It takes only a few minutes to process the form, collect the fee and send the motorist on his way with new plates.

Drivers also can get new plates by mail if they send in the complete three-part form, the registration fee plus $1 for each vehicle to the tax office prior to March 1.

After March 1 it will be necessary to go to the county tax office or substation in person as 30 days are required for mail delivery. In any case, owners will save themselves time and trouble by using the computerized forms.

With the form, a certificate of title and last year's registration receipt are not needed.

The entire form must be mailed or taken to the county tax office or substation. A stick-down strip showing the new license number is attached to all sections of the form. The tax office separates the form, returning part of it as a receipt for the owner.

Applications for license plates should be sent only to the local county tax office. Motorists should not send their payments to the Texas Highway Department because this will delay their registration.

Veterans Pay Due Reduction

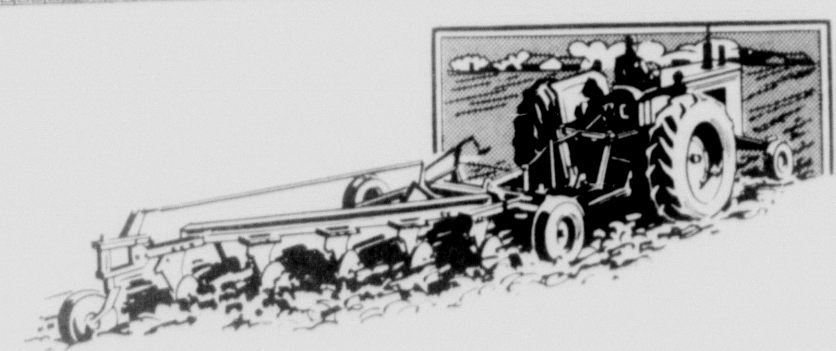

Monthly payments to veterans and veterans' widows who are drawing federal pensions will be reduced effective with the payment they are to receive for January.

Local veteran service officer Roland Black said the decrease in payments are due to an increase in social security benefits which went into effect last fall.

"Veterans or widows who are not drawing social security in addition to their pensions will not be affected," Black said.

He noted that pension payments are based on income of individuals drawing the pensions and that social security payments are considered in income figuring.

Black could not speculate on how much of a reduction is faced by the nearly 800 veterans and widows now drawing pension payments in the county.

Fed Budget Would Impact Little Here

President Nixon's 1973 budget, if passed as presented to the Congress Monday, would have little effect on Randall County.
County Judge Woody Pond said some low income families in the county are being assisted through funding from the Office of Economic Opportunity, which is slated for scrapping by the Nixon budget.
He said no money coming into the Randall County budget is from any program named for reduction or demise in the federal budget.
But, he said, several persons and families in the county could be affected if the budget calls for the dissolving of the Texas Panhandle Community Action Corporation, of which he is president.
Right now, he said, the program is continuing as usual.
"I guess they'll be funded until they run out," he said. "I really don't know what'll happen."
The judge speculated that even if the OEO-sponsored program is eliminated similar programs will be available through other federal agencies.
The community action corporation is responsible for the administering of the neighborhood centers in Amarillo, manpower counseling, planned parenthood and other phases of health and welfare.
City Manager George Louder said the proposed budget would have no effect on the City of Canyon since no federal funds other than revenue-sharing monies are used in city government.
It was not known at mid-week whether any programs—such as student loans and assistance—would be affected by the budget proposals at West Texas State University.
Financial vice president Virgil Henson was in Austin this week and unavailable for comment.
However, at least one major program at the university could be affected it was learned Tuesday.
Dr. Hubert Oppe, head of the university sociology department, said he is not sure whether funding for his newly-financed social work undergraduate degree program could be affected.

"I don't think so," he said. "But, you never know. As far as I know, the funds for this program are already in Austin for the next five years."
Oppe noted that although funds for his program come from the Federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the funds come to the state government for dissemination.
Oppe said he is also uncertain about the budgetary effects on his proposal to install a masters degree program in social work. Currently, he is in the planning stages in requesting funds for the masters program.
The professor said the university considers all federal funding as seed money with the idea to work toward detachment from dependence on the federal government for long-time funding.
Nixon's budget proposal may have closed the door to Hill-Burton funds for construction of a new hospital in Canyon.
Board members of the South Randall County Hospital District had sought and received approval for a Hill-Burton loan subsidy, but were not actively considering the use of the subsidy for construction of the new hospital.

Commissioner John Fulgenzi asked Mrs. Hill to keep a daily work log for a month to present to commissioners concerning her daily work load.
Commissioners also met with Clayton Shiver and Russell Megert of Shiver and Megert, Amarillo architects who designed the new Randall County courthouse structure.
Shiver and Megert brought to the meeting Larry Hueber of Esco, an elevator manufacturing firm, to discuss the leakage of oil from the elevator in the new portion of the courthouse.
Hueber inspected the elevator Monday and asked for a week to continue tests to determine where the leak is located and possible solutions to the problem.

Services Today For Mrs. Hawes
Funeral services for Mrs. Callie Hunter Hawes, 83, a former Canyon resident, will be today at 2 p.m. in the Blackburn-Shaw Funeral Home in Amarillo. She died at Southwest Osteopathic Hospital on Tuesday morning.

Landell Tisdale of the Eastside Sanburn Baptist Church, Amarillo. Pallbearers will be Charlie Kennedy, C.M. Purcell, Bert Wilson, Emmitt Mauldin, W.G. Thomas, and G.T. Watson.
Mrs. Hawes was married to Ernest Hawes, deceased, in 1909 at Munday, Texas. They moved to the Plains, settling in Canyon in 1922. She was a member of the First United Methodist Church, Social Pioneer Club, and Canyon Mother-in-Law's Club.
The former resident moved to Amarillo 12 years ago, and in recent years has made her home there with a daughter, Mrs. Naomi Weddington. Another daughter, Mrs. Jennie Mae Williamson also lives in Amarillo. She is also survived by four brothers and two sisters, as follows: Eugene Hunter, Haskell, Ky. Hunter, Iowa Park; Wilson Hunter, state of Florida; A.W. Hunter, Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. Flora Myers, Munday; and Mrs. Rowena Phillips, Wichita Falls. Carousel of Stars To Feature 26 Acts

A program featuring 26 competing talent acts plus four guest variety acts will be presented in Carrousel of Stars Talent Show this Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m. at Canyon Junior High School.
Master of ceremonies will be John Brandon, a former Canyon boy and graduate of West Texas State University known for performances in musical productions, including "Texas." He will sing two songs during the evening.
Miss Linda Adams, 1972 Miss WTSU, will appear as a guest vocalist, singing three songs.
Another guest performer will be Miss Deltah Roberts, 1973 Miss WTSU, who will give a caricature sketch of Romeo and Juliet from "Twisted Tales of William Shakespeare."

Funds. . .
Some of the services made possible through funds of the American Heart Association are school health screening, hypertension clinics, cardiopulmonary resuscitation training, heart information centers, and other similar programs.
About one fourth of funds collected in Texas in 1971-72 were used for research into the causes, cures, treatment and prevention of diseases of the heart and circulatory system. The balance of the funds are used for promotional and administrative costs involved in conducting meetings, volunteer training, furnishing materials, and other campaign expenditures.
Those who wish to mail in contributions as gifts or memorials may send them at any time during the year to Mr. Levi Cole, Treasurer, Randall County Heart Association, First National Bank of Canyon.

Happy Splits Pair With Lazbuddie
The Happy Cowboys won their district game over Lazbuddie Tuesday night 45-29, but the Cowgirls fell to their opponents 88-51.
In the boy's game, Happy got out in front by four points at the end of the first quarter and then pulled away without much opposition, said coach Gerald Weeks.
Lonnie Tackitt led Cowboy scorers with 14 points. Greg Looney picked up 9, Stuart Tackitt added 8, Johnny Payne, Tim McNeill and Gary Barrett each scored 4, and Chris Pearson scored 2.
Ricky Seaton and Ronnie Bullock each scored 8 for Lazbuddie.
According to the coach, "We just won it." He said there was nothing else exceptional about the game.
In the girl's game, according to coach Leslie Lee, "They shot the lights out in the first quarter." He Wilson also questioned the commissioners on their attempts to circumvent the law in discussion of advertising for bids for the job.

He said the urgency of placing information on computer in time for tax statement issuance next fall was a major factor in the hiring of the Amarillo man and purchase of the on-line terminal.

"Best Game" Puts Eagles Over Dumas

Canyon's boy Eagles were in Dumas Tuesday night and picked up their third district win by playing what coach B.B. Kendrick called their "best game of the year."
The Eagles hit on 48 per cent of their shots from the field and were at 50 per cent accuracy from the foul line.
Leading by only one point, 17-16, at the end of the first quarter, Canyon pulled away steadily throughout the remainder of the game.
Wayne Pitt led in scoring with 27 but he was pushed by Andy Cooper who dunked in 24. Other scoring was by Ed Lair with 10, Gary Don Byars with six and Gary Gerber with two.
Byars also led in rebounding with a total of 15.
Johnny Parker, with 18 points, was tops for Dumas.
Coach Kendrick said his boys "played with confidence" and controlled the tempo of the game. He said the taller Dumas team tried to set the pace but the Eagles managed to control the boards and play their own game.
The Eagles, with a 12-14 season record and standing 3-2 in the district, travel to Priona for a game Friday night.

MOSCOW TO MOSCOW

America's wheat is making a historic turnaround

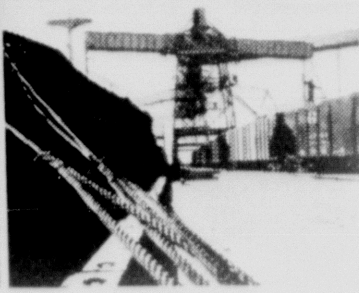

1,000 additional, 100-ton covered hoppers are now being completed to give Santa Fe 11,000 of these giant cars to help move export wheat to Russia

Inspectors checking new hoppers at car builder's plant. Santa Fe pioneered the use of these giant 100-ton covered hoppers for moving wheat and other bulk commodities and has the largest fleet in the rail industry.

Trough hatches extending the length of car roof permit loading in about 12 minutes. Cars can be unloaded in less than three minutes.

Cars at dock facilities for transloading wheat to elevator and ship.

The history of wheat on the Santa Fe started back in the 1870's. At that time, the railway sent representatives to Europe with a view in mind of winning settlers to Kansas. Through their efforts, the Mennonites emigrated from Russia in 1874 and brought with them a few sacks of wheat—red wheat—that thrived and transformed the Midwest and parts of the Southwest into the breadbasket of the world.
Today, one of the cities not far from the center of the wheat belt on the Santa Fe, carries the name of Moscow, Kansas.
Now, the same type of wheat brought to America by the Mennonites from Russia is going back.
It is part of the 400 million bushels of wheat being sold to the Soviet Union. Santa Fe's giant hopper cars are moving it. The company that helped bring wheat to this country is now moving it out, 100 years later.
From Moscow and all across Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas to Moscow and the vast areas of Russia. Quite a historic turnaround.

Moving huge volumes of wheat requires coordination and cooperation

"Export movements require the greatest teamwork between railroads, port authorities and exporters in the scheduling of railroad shipments to coordinate with the movement of sea-going vessels. The current wheat export program puts this teamwork to the test, and the Santa Fe is prepared to work closely with its customers to handle this transportation challenge successfully."

LEONARD BATENHORST CELEBRATED his birthday Sunday evening at his home, with a card party. Guests were the J.G. Batenhorsts, Raymond and Catherine Batenhorst, Sylvester and Elsie Batenhorst, Vincent and Adella Friemel, Dennis and Marcella Brandt from Umbarger, Isidore and Alfredia Reinart, from Hereford. On Monday, the Jack Vorwalds, from Salida, Colorado arrived for a visit. Mrs. Vorwald is the former Marie Batenhorst.

Opening the series Thursday and Friday will be "McCabe and Mrs. Miller," a daguerrotype-like portrayal of a 1902 zinc mining town in which a free-wheeling gambler (Warren Beatty) and a hard-nosed madame (Julie Christie) become partners in running the town's bawdy house. Robert Altman's highly-acclaimed direction aims at depicting the West as it was—"primitive, violent and full of despair."

boy to save the institution from the violent prejudice and bigotry of the townspeople. The film stars Tom Laughlin and Delores Taylor.

The series concludes May 10 and 11 with a nostalgic excursion into "The Summer of 42." Set in sleepy summer-colony island shortly before the onslaught of world war, the film relates the painful initiation rites of a 15-year-old boy into manhood. Starring in the film are Garry Grimes, Jerry Houser and Oliver Conant as the curiosity-ridden adolescent trio, and Jennifer O'Neill as the 22-year old "older woman."

Scheduled April 5-6 is the shocking anti-war film, "Johnny Got His Gun." Written during the pacifistic 30's and published two days after the start of World War II, the film tells the story of a young soldier in World War I (Timothy Bottoms) who survives a bomb blast with little more than his mind and trunk intact, and who desperately tries to communicate with the people around

The program, sponsored by the West Texas State University Student Geological Society, will be at 7:30 p.m. in room 221 of the University Complex South on campus. There is no admission charge.
